What Are We Teaching Our Kids About Love & Human Sexuality? Maybe we're passing on what we learned from our parents. Maybe we're hesitant to have "the talk," because we don't know what to say. More than likely, our kids are hearing plenty about sexuality from the media, and it's not what we'd like them to hear. How do we counter that message? The good news is that the Catholic Church has a message too and, contrary to what some may believe, that message is positive, affirming and life-giving. There's so much more to share with our kids than "don't do it!" Come and find out for yourself!

More on the Theology of the Body at St. Joseph, Mechanicsburg - For adults interested in a more in-depth consideration of Catholic teaching on love & sexuality, we will have a facilitated discussion of Christopher West's book, Good News

About Sex & Marriage. This book covers all aspects of Church teaching on the subject, including those that are often seen as controversial. The purpose of the discussion is to learn about these teachings – not to challenge them or condemn those who are troubled by them. The questions and intentions of all participants will be respected. Participants should read Christopher West's book prior to the discussion. It may be purchased individually or through St. Joseph Church. The discussion will be on Tuesday, May 19 from 7:00-9:00 p.m. Contact Mary Vukelich at 766-9433 to register. Fee: $2-discussion only; $13.99-book and discussion. REGISTRATION DEADLINE: Tuesday, April 21.
